

To Whom it may Concern,

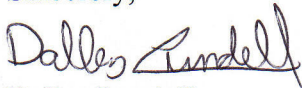

I just wanted to take a moment to tell you about one of the most engaging, energetic, godly speakers Canada has produced in a long time. His name is Randy Carter and he is known for his life-giving and passionate words, which he delivers to students and adults all over the world. I have had the privilege of knowing Randy for almost seven years now, and I have seen how God has used him in the lives of people both inside and outside the church. Randy is certainly a gifted communicator, but his love for God and people rises above all that.

Just a couple of weeks ago we had the chance to have Randy come in and speak to our junior high and high school students. For the 50 minutes he shared God's Word with them, the students were attentive and listening. Anyone in the room could tell that Randy has a unique way of connecting with students. Students hear the message God has given Randy through great stories, lots of humour, and a strong foundation cemented in the Bible. So many of my students came up to me afterward and said how great it was to hear God's truth in a new and refreshing way. As a youth pastor, I am very thankful for men like Randy who use their gifts to honour God by loving and inspiring students.

There is one message he delivers which is particularly powerful. It is on the topic of purity. No matter where someone lives, this is an issue that needs to be addressed. Randy has crafted this message on purity in a way that really speaks to students' hearts and encourages them to honour God with their bodies. Young people have heard this message for years certainly. However, Randy has a fresh approach which allows people to hear things in a different way. Ultimately, I believe anyone who hears this message will want others they know to hear it too.

In my opinion, Randy's passion for God and people comes out so clearly as he communicates with them. He would be an ideal person to speak to students in schools, in churches, and wherever a student spends time. If you have the opportunity to have Randy come in and speak to your students or adults, make sure you take it. You will definitely not be disappointed.

Sincerely,
